Course Description

Chinese 222 is the continuation of Chinese 121. The course is designed to reinforce what students have acquired in Chinese 121 and continue to expand their skills to develop their communications both in reading and writing in order move to the advanced-level.

Prerequisite: Chinese 202 or equivalent

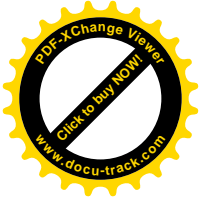

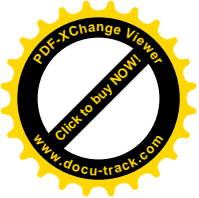

Course Structure

This course consists of the following:

1. Lectures
2. Presentations
3. Quizzes (including vocabulary and/or grammar)
4. Unit tests
5. Cumulative Final

Text

Oh, China! Elementary Reader of Modern Chinese for Advanced Beginners By Chih-p'ing Chou, Perry Link and Xuedong Wang. Princeton: Princeton University Press, 1997. (ISBN-13: 978-0691058788; ISBN-10: 0691058784)

Class Attendance

Classes meet two times a week and you are expected to be in class on time every day. Please inform the instructor of your absence in advance via Rutgers Online Absences Report System at <https://sims.rutgers.edu/ssra/>. (Please note: Reporting your absence does not "excuse" you). Absences can be excused only for religious reasons or by presentation of official documents explaining your absence (e.g., doctor's notes). If you miss class for more than 30 minutes, your lateness will be counted as a half absence. You are allowed only one unexcused absence. More than 3 (including 3) unexcused absences will lead automatically to an "F". Final grades will be lowered by 3% for each day of class missed.

Class Preparation

You are expected to come to class well prepared. Proper preparation for each class will take you a minimum of one to two hours. Please arrange your schedule so that you have enough time to prepare for this class. Language learning is a cumulative process and requires continuous, steady effort.

Homework

Homework assignments will be announced in class. We will collect your homework and go over it in class after we hand it back to you. Please submit your homework on time to receive full credit. Late submissions will receive no credit, but I would still be happy to review your work.

Quizzes, Tests, and Exams

There will be quizzes either on vocabulary, sentence patterns, or the lesson text. All unit tests and exams are cumulative. Therefore, review earlier material frequently. Make-ups will be given for unit tests & exams only for officially excused absences or conflicts (official documents have to be provided). It is your responsibility to get in touch with the instructor and schedule a make-up.

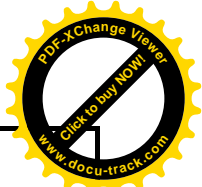

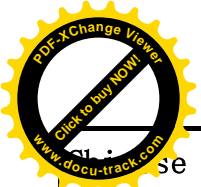

Plagiarism/Cheating Policy

Any form of plagiarism/cheating is strictly forbidden in this course. Plagiarism on exams and essays will automatically result in an "F" in the respective item. For more information regarding academic integrity, please check <http://academicintegrity.rutgers.edu/>.

Grading

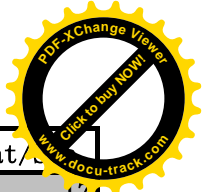

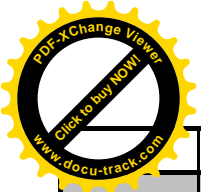

Your final grade will be calculated as follows:

Quizzes	15%
Unit Tests	30%
Assignments	20%
Effort	5%
Final	30%
